Food

Friday evening: A finger food buffet will be provided free of charge.

Saturday lunch: A sandwich lunch will be provided free of charge, but please book.

Saturday evening: You can book a two-course meal (drinks not included) in the Brasserie du Cents (across the road from the hall) for €23.50 (bookings and payment before 2 June, to ensure speedy service). Some cake will be served during the interval at the dance.

There are other restaurants in rue de Trèves and in the city centre (buses are free on Saturday). You could also bring your own food and have a picnic.

Drinks

Water will be provided during the course and ball. Coffee and tea will be provided during the breaks. Wine and beer will be available at democratic prices.

Accommodation

The cheapest options are the Youth Hostel and the Centre d'Hébergement at d'Coque sports centre. A number of people have stayed at the Campanile Hotel near the airport, which has reasonable prices; there have been no complaints about noise. There is also an Ibis Hotel near the airport. Some of the big hotels have special weekend rates. We may be able to assist with accommodation for a small number of people.

Reservations

You can make your reservation via bookings@scottishdancing.lu or by returning the form to a committee member on a dancing evening before Wednesday 13 June. The meal in the restaurant on Saturday evening must be booked by 2 June.
